September 24, 2013

Ms. Marilyn Tavenner
Administrator
Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services
7500 Security Boulevard
Baltimore, MD 21244

Dear Administrator Tavenner:

As you know, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) recently released the final FY 2014 inpatient prospective payment system rule. We write to express concerns with the Admission and Medical Review Criteria for Hospital Inpatient Services and to request a six month delay in implementation of this provision to allow CMS time to address flaws in this policy.

We appreciate CMS' effort to provide clarity regarding when an inpatient hospital admission should be ordered and certified and when inpatient hospital admissions are generally appropriate for Medicare Part A payment. We also agree with the agency's overarching goal of ensuring that Medicare only pays for inpatient services when they are medically necessary. It is our understanding that CMS does not intend to redefine medical necessity but to clear up confusion that has led to significant hospital resources being diverted to Recovery Audit Contractors (RAC) appeals related to documentation of inpatient admissions.

However, as it stands now, we are concerned that Medicare beneficiaries could assume a higher financial burden for their care under the new policy. Additionally, we are concerned that hospitals in our districts could be undercompensated for providing medically necessary services that do not meet the new criteria spelled out by CMS and face administrative challenges in complying with new requirements.

Under the new policy, inpatient admissions would be presumed reasonable and necessary for Medicare beneficiaries who require more than a one-day stay (meaning a stay that crosses two "midnights"), or a procedure that is specified as inpatient-only. Accordingly, the policy presumes that stays spanning less than "two midnights" should have been provided on an outpatient basis, unless a physician clearly documents the factors that support the physician's order and expectation that the patient required an inpatient level of care.

We are aware that CMS received comments from numerous organizations representing hospitals and beneficiaries in response to the new policy and we are hearing from our constituents as well. Based on this input, we believe that further modifications to the admission and medical review criteria are needed to ensure patients are not forced to spend more out of pocket for their care and that our hospitals are not unfairly subject to denied claims or made vulnerable to unnecessary RAC audits.

We respectfully urge you to delay enforcement of the regulations that apply to the entire two-midnight requirement for six months and to revisit this policy contained in the FY2014 IPPS rule. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
